THE BOARD'S BULLETIN BOARD

August 2, 2010 (revised)

Prepared by the Community Relations Committee to keep you informed of current developments

Website for 1350

A website has been developed for our condominium owners and residents: <http://www.1350alamoana.com>. It is easily found by typing it in the address bar in your browser. Using Yahoo as a search engine also works; Google does not work easily. Information of interest and importance to owners and residents is and will be posted there. We plan to post updates regarding the coming work there too, along with information that will clarify any concerns owners and residents may have.

Emails

Please do not use board members' personal email addresses to contact them regarding 1350 Ala Moana business. Instead, please send a letter to:

Maintenance, Repair, and Replacement

We appreciate the support and concerns of all the owners. We take all comments seriously, as we have the whole design and preparation process. We have worked very hard to ensure that the needs and safety of all of our community be met. We realize this is a big undertaking for us all and we trust that with aloha, and patience on all our parts, we will emerge with a home that will meet current building codes, will be easier for our dedicated staff to maintain, and will honor the spirit of our world renowned architect, Minoru Yamasaki. This work on the hallways will begin shortly after Labor Day and is scheduled to affect about five floors at a time, for approximately a month, beginning with the upper floors first. Each old door will be removed and replaced in a single day, for security and to cause the least disruption. As the time nears, a work schedule will be posted in the foyer and elevators, and on the website so that owners/residents can prepare for the disruption.

The Board of Directors would like to take this opportunity to thank all the residents in advance, for your cooperation during the hallway project.

Vehicle Entrance Traffic Pattern

A "No Left Turn" sign will be posted on the mauka-makai driveway in front of the lower garage for all our safety.
